

LEAK DETECTION MANAGEMENT

AREA OF EXPERTISE

JOAT is fully equipped to manage leak detection and repair work under any conditions or environment. Fully trained staff are versed in the use of both traditional and high-performance equipment to accurately and quickly detect and pinpoint suspected leaks.

Our Engineers and technicians provide an essential value-added service that maximizes the impact of leak detection and repair programmes.

Strategic and operational analysis and advice will ensure that real loss volumes are minimized. Ensuring quality control, determining the economic level of intervention, economic level of leakage, leak detection frequency and infrastructure condition factors as well as providing guidance on materials selection and management are just some of our services offered.

Formal training courses in basic, intermediate and advanced leak detection procedures are also available.
